A first impression

With a living space of approx. 90 m², this newly renovated apartment in an old building offers comfortable and stylish living in the heart of a well-kept apartment building dating back to 1906. The building is in very good condition, as continuous maintenance work has been carried out. A high maintenance reserve also ensures security and value retention. The apartment was last extensively modernized in 2014 and today presents itself with an appealing, upscale quality of furnishings.

As soon as you enter the apartment, you notice the high ceilings typical of an old building and the generous windows, which flood the rooms with plenty of natural light. The parquet flooring throughout emphasizes the elegant character of the apartment and creates a pleasant living atmosphere. The bright living room with its bay window is the heart of this charming apartment. There are two balconies, one of which can be accessed from the current study.

The modern fitted kitchen blends harmoniously into the overall picture and provides access to the second balcony. The unobstructed view is an absolute highlight and promises relaxing moments. The rooms offer a wide range of possibilities for individual design and are ideal for both couples and small families. The well-kept bathroom offers plenty of space and the window ensures fresh air at all times.

The location also deserves special attention: the apartment is located in a quiet residential area with excellent public transport connections. Both S-Bahn and U-Bahn stations are within walking distance and connect you quickly and easily to the city center or other parts of the city. There are numerous shopping facilities, doctors, cafés and restaurants as well as schools and kindergartens in the immediate vicinity, making everyday life much easier.

The apartment is heated by an efficient central heating system, which ensures a reliable and consistent heat supply. The combination of tasteful furnishings, historical charm and modern living comfort makes this offer particularly attractive for people who want to live in an urban yet relaxed environment.

Come and see the many advantages of this exceptional apartment in an old building for yourself - we look forward to hearing from you.
