A first impression

The property we are offering with an area of approx. 1379 m² (plus approx. 129 m² of street land) is located in the Berlin-Buch district in the immediate vicinity of the Helios Clinic.

Thanks to the generous plot area, there is a wide range of possibilities here. These range from the construction of a modern detached house with a large garden to the division of the plot and the construction of two residential buildings.

There is no development plan for the area, which means that development is possible in accordance with §34 BauGB (surrounding development). This gives you the opportunity to optimally adapt your building project to the existing neighboring buildings.

The plot is already connected to water, sewage, electricity and telephone.

On the front part of the plot there is currently a weekend bungalow built in 1984 in a simple stone location, in the rear a low-rise building and a larger shed building (partly solid and built in timber frame construction).

The plots are also offered for sale separately.

The best way to see the potential of this property for yourself is to arrange a viewing appointment, which we will of course arrange individually for you.

We look forward to your inquiry.

All about the location

Berlin-Buch is also known as "the health city". Around a third of the Pankow district consists of hospital sites, care facilities, research institutes and biotechnology and medical technology companies. The large biotech park on the Berlin-Buch campus enjoys an international reputation as an excellent scientific location for research and development.

However, Berlin-Buch has much more to offer. The particularly green and quiet location in the immediate vicinity of the Barnim Nature Park, extensive forests, beautiful lakes and the spacious castle park offer opportunities for excursions, sports and recreation and invite you to take long bike rides, walks and nature experiences.

Various daycare centers, primary and secondary schools and everything you need for everyday life are within walking distance - bakeries, supermarkets, doctors and pharmacies. The Schlosspark-Passage offers a wide range of shopping opportunities.

Berlin-Buch has excellent transport links to Berlin city center. The most important destinations can be reached within 20 to 30 minutes by S-Bahn - including Friedrichstrasse, Potsdamer Platz and the main railway station, Berlin's most important S-Bahn and U-Bahn junction. You can also reach the city center or other parts of Berlin quickly and easily by car via the B 2 or the A 10.

Buch - green, quiet and yet Berlin - a location with future prospects!
