A first impression

This well-maintained 2.5-room apartment in Hattenhofen is for sale. It is located on the first floor of a mixed-use building constructed in 1973, comprising five floors. Access to the apartments is from the rear of the building, meaning you enter at first floor level. This gives the apartment the feel of a raised ground floor, making it suitable for seniors. Upon entering, you are greeted by a spacious hallway offering not only practical storage space but also a variety of potential uses. To the left is the bright bedroom with access to a small balcony. To the right is the expansive living and dining room, which impresses with its brightness and spaciousness. From here, you can access both the kitchen and the large balcony. A large tree in front of the building shields the balcony from the street, ensuring privacy and a verdant atmosphere. The apartment features two balconies, a bedroom, a large living/dining room, a kitchen, a bathroom with a bathtub, a separate toilet, and the aforementioned spacious hallway. A cellar storage room, an underground parking space, and a shared bicycle garage complete the offering. The washing machine connection is located directly in the apartment. Modernizations have already been carried out in recent years: the heating system was completely replaced in 1995. The living room windows were replaced with triple-glazed windows in 2008, and the balcony was retiled a few years ago. Since the apartment was still occupied at the time of filming, private rooms such as the bedrooms and living room were digitally emptied and virtually furnished ("staged") using AI to give prospective buyers a better idea of the room's ambiance. However, the best way to experience this apartment is to see it for yourself and arrange a viewing appointment today.
