A first impression

This charming multi-family house was built around 1905 and is centrally located in the heart of Schildesche. The property offers approximately 246 m² of living space, spread across the ground floor, first floor, and attic. The entire house is currently rented to a large group of residents who occupy all floors. The house comprises eleven rooms, each rented under individual, graduated rent agreements. The current annual net rent is €31,140. The tenant base is considered very stable – many residents have lived in the house for several years and form a close-knit community, contributing to consistent occupancy and a reliable income stream. Considering its age, the building is in sound condition. Various modernization measures have been implemented over the years. For example, the two gas-fired central heating systems were replaced in 2014 and 2017, the roof was likely renovated in the early 1990s, and insulation was installed in 2005. In 2023, all windows facing the street were replaced with modern soundproof glazing, while some of the windows on the garden side are older. The gas and water lines were also partially renewed, most recently in 2018. The bathrooms date from the early 1990s and are finished in classic white. Overall, the house is in good technical condition, although the interiors—due to intensive use as a large shared apartment—show significant signs of wear and tear and require maintenance. The property is particularly appealing due to its central location in Bielefeld-Schildesche and the resulting excellent rental potential. The stable tenant base and the ongoing maintenance make this historic apartment building an attractive and sustainable investment with further development potential. Are you interested?
