All about the location

In one of the most characteristic parts of Amsterdam Oud-Zuid you will find the Hacquartstraat - a green, serene street known for its unique architecture by Philip Warners and Gerrit-Jan Rutgers, with houses with characteristic black and white tiled facades. This street is sheltered but central, right between the lively Cornelis Schuytstraat and the quiet Banstraat. The immediate area offers everything you need. From artisanal specialty shops such as a baker, greengrocer and butcher to a wide selection of boutiques, luxury shops and fine restaurants - including on the Beethovenstraat, the Cornelis Schuytstraat and the well-known P.C. Hooftstraat. The Vondelpark, the Museumplein and the Concertgebouw are also easily accessible on foot. This is an ideal location for families, with several excellent (primary) schools, sports clubs and childcare facilities within walking distance. In terms of accessibility, you are in an excellent position here: public transport (tram and bus) is nearby, Zuid-WTC Station is easily accessible by bike and by car you are on the Ring A10 in no time. Parking is possible with a permit or paid on the street.
