A first impression

At the Playa de Palma, not far from the shopping center and eponymous park La Ribera, these 26 new terraced houses are being built. Your future (vacation) domicile in Mallorca. The houses are built on plots from 215 square meters and have from 142 square meters constructed area. Each house has its own garden with swimming pool, its own terraces and each is equipped with a roof terrace. There are two parking spaces at each house. The houses have different orientations with a lot of sun that provides plenty of natural light throughout the day. This is used to enable the production of hot water with the help of thermal solar panels on the roof. Each house has its own 500-liter drinking water tank. Various kitchen layouts and equipment packages are available depending on taste and needs. Likewise, there are several interior layout options to choose from. Underfloor heating can be installed at an additional cost if purchased early. Completion is scheduled for spring 2024. Secure entry-level pricing now and secure the best location in this great project.
