A first impression

For sale is an exceptionally well-kept detached house that was built in 1990 and has been continuously modernized since then.

Nestled in one of the most sought-after residential areas of Künzelsau, this property is situated on a generous plot of approx. 786 m² with an impressive living space of approx. 392 m² - an ideal home for families with high demands on space, comfort and quality.

You can feel the special atmosphere as soon as you enter the house: high-quality materials, a well thought-out room layout and a light-flooded living ambience characterize the overall picture.

The spacious living and dining area on the first floor forms the heart of the house - complemented by a cozy fireplace and direct access to the large, heated terrace with incomparable views over the Kocher river and the town of Künzelsau.

The high-quality fitted kitchen from 2014 impresses with appliances from the premium brands Gaggenau and Miele and makes the heart of every cooking enthusiast beat faster. Separate guest WCs on all floors and elegant "Axor" fittings in all bathrooms underline the high standard of fittings.

Spacious bedrooms, some with walk-in dressing rooms, await you on the upper floor. The master bathroom is equipped with underfloor heating - for maximum comfort. The top floor boasts an impressive, maisonette-style teenage bedroom - a very special retreat for the next generation.

The basement offers additional utility and living space:

A fully-fledged granny apartment, which can alternatively be used as an office for your business, a wellness area with KLAFS sauna, a bathroom, a further terrace as well as practical cellar rooms and the boiler and utility room complete the space on offer. Thanks to separate staircase access (stairwell), the areas remain clearly separated if desired.

Nothing has been spared in the outdoor area either: the modernized gardens with garden shed, automatic irrigation system and outdoor shower are perfectly maintained and create an idyllic living environment.

Surrounding balconies and terraces as well as a recently built outdoor seating area provide sunny spots at any time of day.

A single garage, a double garage and an outdoor parking space are available for your vehicles.

An existing elevator shaft also offers the option of a freight or "stamp elevator" - a practical investment for the future.

Conclusion:

This property is far more than just a home - it is a well thought-out lifestyle concept for discerning buyers who value quality, comfort, location and long-term prospects.

The VON POLL IMMOBILIEN team looks forward to hearing from you and welcomes you to a personal viewing on site.
