A first impression

This property offers you the opportunity to turn your dream of a tailor-made home into reality. The property impresses with its remarkable location near a renowned golf course and offers not only numerous leisure opportunities, but also a high quality of life.

Particularly noteworthy is the fact that there is already an approved building project for the plot, which is just waiting to be realized. This not only saves you time, but also the often time-consuming bureaucracy associated with planning permission. This means you can start implementing your building project straight away. The structural foundations are ideal for realizing your ideas of modern living.

The excellent orientation of the plot guarantees that it is optimally flooded with natural light. This is not only an advantage for the light conditions inside the future home, but also enables energy-efficient planning, for example through the use of solar energy. The existing infrastructure also plays an important role. Convenient transport links mean that shops, schools and other important facilities can be reached quickly. The proximity to nature should also be emphasized, which is ideal for walks and outdoor leisure activities.

Another advantage of this property is the design possibilities it offers. In conjunction with the already approved project, it allows you to realize innovative and future-oriented living concepts. The planning phase can be adapted according to your individual wishes and ideas. Your future property can be designed to optimally support your personal lifestyle.

We invite you to come and see the benefits of this property for yourself. We would be happy to arrange an on-site viewing so that you can get a detailed picture of the conditions. Our team will be on hand to answer any questions you may have about your future building project. Be inspired by the possibilities offered by this property and realize your dream of owning your own home in an outstanding location.
