All about the location

Palmanyola is an exclusive residential area in the municipality of Bunyola, which today has around 2,400 inhabitants and is characterized by spacious plots and well-kept architecture. Only around twelve kilometers from Palma and around twenty minutes from the international airport, the town offers a perfect combination of tranquillity and centrality. Its history dates back to the Middle Ages, when the lands were distributed after the conquest by Jaume I. From the 1960s, large estates such as Sa Font Seca and Son Amar developed into the current urbanization, which has been an independent administrative unit since 1985.

Palmanyola is characterized by extensive plots of between 500 and 1,000 square metres, which are mainly built up with detached houses and villas. Regulations to preserve the exclusive character prevent denser development, which gives the village its upmarket yet informal character. The surrounding area is characterized by almond and carob trees, while the nearby Serra de Tramuntana provides attractive views and a pleasant microclimate.

For families, Palmanyola offers a local elementary school, CEIP Gaspar Sabater, while renowned international schools with English-language or bilingual curricula are within easy reach in nearby Palma. This makes the town particularly suitable for international families looking for a safe, natural environment with a good school infrastructure.

The leisure facilities include sports facilities, a local club with tennis and fitness, parks, cycle paths and walking trails as well as a pump track facility for children and teenagers. Due to its close proximity to Palma, residents also benefit from a wide range of cultural and gastronomic offerings, from theaters and museums to upscale restaurants and exclusive boutiques. Palmanyola combines natural tranquillity and privacy with urban comfort, meeting the demands of discerning property buyers looking for a high-quality location in close proximity to the capital.
