A first impression

This newly completed duplex first floor apartment is located directly in the historic La Lonja district - a rare opportunity to live in Palma's old town, just a few steps away from the Es Baluard museum and the marina.

The apartment impresses with an open, light-flooded living area with high ceilings, which conveys a generous feeling of space. High-quality materials such as oak parquet flooring and iroko wood elements create a warm and stylish ambience. Underfloor heating, central air conditioning and a modern aerothermal system, which guarantees efficient heating and cooling, ensure maximum comfort.

The apartment has two spacious bedrooms, two elegant bathrooms and a versatile additional room, ideal as a study or guest room. An open kitchen with dining area invites you to cook and linger together. A separate guest WC completes the space perfectly.

A big plus point is the private parking space in the building's own garage - a real advantage in this central location. The stylish furnishings can be taken over on request so that the apartment is ready for immediate occupancy.

All about the location

La Lonja is one of the most characterful districts in the historic center of Palma and has only a few thousand inhabitants, which gives the quarter its quiet, almost village-like residential character. The district developed around the famous medieval maritime trade exchange, which is still an architectural landmark today and a reminder of Palma's economic importance in the 15th century. With its narrow streets, restored manor houses and small squares, La Lonja has an authentic old town ambience that attracts both locals and international residents.

The location in the heart of the city allows for short distances: the old town of Palma starts right on the doorstep, the port is just a few minutes away and the airport can be reached in around 10 km. Despite the central location, the living environment remains pleasantly quiet, as many streets are traffic-calmed and the focus is on pedestrian-friendliness. The proximity to international schools in the greater Palma area also makes the neighborhood interesting for families who want to combine urban living with good connections.

Sports facilities can be found both on the harbor promenade and in the surrounding area: jogging and cycling on the Paseo Marítimo, sailing and water sports at the yacht club as well as various fitness and boutique sports studios in the city center. La Lonja thus offers a rare combination of historical flair, urban comfort and close proximity to leisure and educational facilities - an environment that makes properties in this location particularly desirable.
