Neuvorstellung

Property ID: 25202030 - 46414 Rhede

A first impression

This attractive property, with approximately 282 m² of living space and a generous plot of approximately 533 m², offers ideal conditions for a variety of living needs. Built in 1885, this two-family house has undergone extensive modernization and expansion on the upper floor, resulting in a well-maintained condition. The ground floor, with a separate entrance, offers approximately 109 m² of living space. It requires renovation and offers great potential for individual customization – whether as a separate apartment for rental, as living space for a large family, or for creating a multi-generational home. A possible layout includes a bathroom, dining room, living room, bedroom, kitchen, and storage room. The upper floor is accessed via its own entrance. Upstairs, you'll find a modernized apartment with a well-designed floor plan. The staircase leads to the hallway, which connects directly to the kitchen. The open-plan living and dining room, with access to the balcony, creates a bright and welcoming atmosphere. A bedroom and dressing room, a guest WC, and a bathroom with a shower and bathtub are also available on this floor. A boiler room, which also serves as a storage room, and an office (formerly a children's room) complete the living space. The partially converted attic contains another bedroom, which is not included in the living area calculation. The house has a partial basement, providing additional usable space. It features two separate heating systems and separate electricity and gas meters. The water meters are shared. The spacious garden offers two covered terraces, an open terrace, and a caravan. The property also includes a large garage with space for three cars, a storage room or workshop, and an additional guest toilet. There is another parking space in front of the garage entrance. Overall, this is a solidly built property. However, due to current energy efficiency standards, some renovations on the ground floor are necessary. We would be happy to send you a detailed brochure with photos and are, of course, available for a personal viewing appointment. We look forward to your inquiry. The property is available by arrangement.
