A first impression

Historic charm meets modern living comfort – a unique property with two detached houses, an idyllic courtyard, and a stunning garden. Nestled in the picturesque old town of Bad Wimpfen, this exceptional 18th-century estate awaits you – a place where history comes alive and modern living comfort is stylishly integrated. On approximately 375 m² of land, the best of both worlds is combined: Two separately accessible detached houses with approximately 140 m² and 321 m² of living space offer diverse possibilities – ideal for living, working, renting, or as a multi-generational residence. The gate of the front house leads into the enchanting courtyard – a place that immediately exudes a sense of well-being. To the right, you enter the charming front house; opposite is a small garage with an adjoining garden shed – perfect for use as a workshop or hobby room. Another advantage: The courtyard offers parking for a small car or motorcycle – a true rarity in the old town! A particular highlight is the landscaped garden with a large west-facing terrace (built in 2022). Here you can leave everyday life behind, soak up the sun, and relax in your private garden oasis – right in the heart of the historic old town, yet completely secluded. The front building (approx. 140 m² living space) impresses with its original charm and is ideally suited for rental (long-term or holiday guests) or for your own business. On the ground floor, you will find a spacious, light-filled room with a modern shower room and an additional area that is perfect as a small kitchen, office, or reception area. Upstairs, you will find three rooms, a kitchen, and a bright bathroom with a shower and bathtub. From here, you have access to the historic rampart walkway – a true highlight! The attic offers three further rooms and an additional shower room. The gas boiler (renewed in 2022), rustic wooden floors, lovingly preserved wooden doors, and charming casement windows create a harmonious blend of tradition and modernity. Main House (approx. 321 m² living space) The main house is a true marvel of space – with inspiring areas for creative ideas and generous living spaces for relaxation. The ground floor offers versatile rooms: A stylish room with modern tiles, a wood-burning stove, and a large window front overlooking the garden invites you to work, create, or unwind. The adjacent, characterful natural stone room with its historic floors, wooden beams, and rustic ambiance is ideal as an atelier, gallery, studio, or event space – a place with soul and atmosphere. The first floor forms the modern heart of the house: A fully equipped kitchen with an adjoining dining area, a spacious living room with a tiled stove, charming window elements, and a guest WC create a stylish yet cozy living environment. An open wooden staircase leads to the mezzanine level with two bedrooms and a spacious bathroom with double sinks, a bathtub, a shower, and a WC – ideal as a children's room, guest room, or office. On the top floor, you'll find another spacious living area with a wood-burning stove and exposed wooden beams, creating a warm and inviting atmosphere. This level also includes two bedrooms, a shower room, and an additional smaller room, perfect for use as an office. A generous vaulted cellar in the basement provides further storage space. In short, this property has character – plenty of room for your dreams, nestled in the romantic old town of Bad Wimpfen. Whether as a family residence, a combined living and working space, or for rental purposes, this property offers countless opportunities to harmoniously blend history and modernity.
