In the heart of the Cycladic beauty of the Aegean, on the island of Paros, nestled within an elegant complex of three residences, lies the under-construction Villa SOLARA, spanning 103 sq.m., thoughtfully built in harmony with the island's natural landscape and radiant light.

Bathed in sunlight and offering unobstructed views of the endless blue sea, this residence features three bedrooms (two of which are master suites), three bathrooms, and bright open-plan living areas that exude warmth and refined simplicity. Its minimalist architecture blends seamlessly with the authentic Cycladic aesthetic, incorporating high-quality materials, energy-efficient wooden frames, solar water heater, insect screens, and a security system.

Outdoors, a private swimming pool promises moments of pure relaxation, while direct access to the road ensures everyday practicality and ease. Just a breath away from the beach and oriented to the southeast, the villa becomes a natural extension of the landscape—filling life with light, energy, and freedom.
